Page 6	Under the Veterinary Practice Act 1997 a veterinarian refers to a person who is registered with a relevant State or Territory authority. If you infer that you are veterinarian and are NOT registered this is an offence under the Act.	Please remove the word registrable and replace with registered .	Accept change
Page 6, paragraph 5, definition of veterinarian	It is likely to be considered that the current definition is not compliant with Veterinary Practice Act 2003 (NSW) (s 11) as the term veterinarian may represent the person to be a veterinary practitioner and as such the person must be registered	'veterinarian' means a person who is registered with a relevant State or Territory authority	Accept change
